

The map displays a dense grid of land parcels, each identified by a unique number. The highlighted plot, 233 SO 10, is situated in a block bounded by Übertuer to the north, Teile to the west, and Riedelau to the east. The building footprint on this plot is a simple rectangular structure. The surrounding area is characterized by a high density of small, irregularly shaped plots, typical of urban land divisions in Berlin. The map includes a north arrow in the upper right corner, indicating the orientation of the area.
